Hailing from Paris, France, we find heavy thrashers BURNING DEAD. The quartet have an excellent new nine track album out now called 'Into the Abyss' which clocks in at around forty-seven minutes long and is the bands sophomore release. The album starts with the vibrant bass and guitar stomper 'The Witch'. This is a powerful long track with sturdy musicianship coupled with death vocals. 'Sacrifice of Soul' catchy, heavy and groove based with intense guitars, this track has an early Megadeth vibe and the music gets faster as the song grows with slamming drum performances, this is quite a big sounding complex piece with progressive metal influences coming in. 'In My Mind Insane' is a guitar heavy catchy track with which flows with a more traditional vibe. It's catchy and makes me think of the eighties thrash band Mordred.

The catchy 'Born in the Blood' is one of my favourite songs, this has a strong bombastic Motörhead vibe with female singer Drina Hex sounding raspy. The drum sound is intense with heavy killer laying from Saraknyal, outstanding track. The intense drum power continues to fire up on the brilliant 'Run', this is an old school heavy and vibrant thrasher with Slayer elements banging through along with death vocals, this is song hits fast and hard.

Another highlight of the album is the incredible 'My Little Lullaby' which features mysterious vocals from Drina, along with a thrash meets power metal vibe, with killer fast guitar work from Orco, with added death vocals from Drina. The female vocals are again evident on 'And About That' which come across in the Doro Pesch vibe, this is a sturdy heavy and catch power metallar. 'Into the Abyss' is a hard hitting fun and catchy power metal thrasher. The album ends with a beautiful guitar instrumental called 'Before the Dawn' which is quite atmospheric and charming.

'Into the Abyss' is a fantastic sounding diverse album, hard hitting with tons of energy, well worth checking out.
